Executive Master of Business Administration (EMBA)

Prepare for Senior Management

ABOUT NOBEL INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS SCHOOL (NiBS)

NiBS is a private boutique business school in Ghana. It was founded to make a difference with a new kind of educational model designed to meet the needs of executives. The NiBS program delivery model is designed around busy executives, easy to experience, innovative and forward-looking. Our foundation premise is that there is a new dawn for Africa which requires leadership creativity to emerge and shine. Africa needs executives with advanced cognitive leadership skills to discover the limitations of current leadership practices, develop deep insights into what works, and what does not work in business practice.

Vision

To be recognized as the leading practice-oriented research business school in Africa which develops, educates and trains business leaders and professionals throughout their careers.

Mission

Our mission is to be a leader in developing thought leaders who have habits of the mind – at once flexible and insightful, informed by experience and yet oriented towards innovation so that they can be agents of both economic prosperity and transformative social change in Africa.

EXECUTIVE MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Emerging markets, such as Africa, have VUCAROT environments: volatile, unpredictable, complex, and ambiguous but rich with opportunities and threats. To reach the very top of your leadership career in this environment, you must transform how you see things, have the desire to be challenged, explore new ideas, and experiment to deliver unique customer value. This means you need to develop an exponential mindset and perspectives beyond the traditional knowledge offered by ordinary MBAs.

The problems and opportunities that come with managing and leading in emerging markets are the main focus of the NiBS-EMBA. The curriculum is intended for aspiring leaders to use their experience to explore new possibilities rather than uphold the status quo.

Our EMBA program encourages you to look more closely at issues related to managing and leading organizations. It is practical, project-based, and taught by knowledgeable instructors and business professionals.
